Finance and Public Administration Committee

The Hon. Lord Weir
Chair
Eljamel Inquiry

24 April 2025

Dear The Hon. Lord Weir

Cost-effectiveness of Scottish public inquiries

On 4 April 2025, the Committee launched a short, focussed inquiry into the cost-effectiveness of Scottish public inquiries. The Committee requests further information and data to inform this inquiry as set out below.

Remit

This is the first time that a Scottish Parliament Committee has examined this matter in depth and, as such, the inquiry aims to foster greater understanding of the current position with public inquiries in Scotland, including their number, timescales, extensions to terms of reference, costs, categories of spend and outstanding recommendations.

The remit of the inquiry includes:

- to enhance clarity around the purpose, framework and decision-making process for establishing public inquiries and their terms of reference, and whether any improvements are required
- to establish if public inquiries in Scotland deliver value for money, the extent to which spending controls are necessary, and how they might be implemented while maintaining the independence and effectiveness of inquiries
- to identify examples of good practice (in Scotland or elsewhere) which ensure cost-effectiveness
- to identify alternatives to the Scottish inquiry model, including how such alternatives may work, deliver outcomes and value for money.

The Committee does not, as part of this inquiry, intend to make recommendations on the merits or otherwise of individual Scottish Government decisions on whether to hold a specific public inquiry, or to make comment on specific recommendations that have been made by any individual public inquiry.

Information requested

The Committee is aware that data relating to specific public inquiries is available through their public inquiry websites as set out in Annexe A and via several Scottish Government responses to FOI requests listed at Annexe B. However, there appear to be gaps in this information that it would be useful to address. The Scottish Covid Inquiry website provides a comprehensive breakdown of costs, and an explanation of the costs as noted below. Therefore, the Committee asks for the same breakdown of costs for all active public inquiries to end March 2025, as follows:

- staff costs
These include staff responsible and accountable for the overall administration and management of the Inquiry.
- operational costs
These include items and services required by the Inquiry to conduct its work effectively.
- expenses, including witness expenses
These are costs incurred by witnesses to attend hearings, and by staff when travelling on Inquiry business.
- inquiry legal services
These costs encompass external legal advice provided to the Inquiry, including counsel.
- engagement
These costs refer to public participation events or costs such as translating documents and guides to make them more widely accessible, maintaining the Inquiry website, distributing Inquiry news updates and producing explanatory videos.
- research and consultancy
This includes academic research commissioned by the Inquiry to assist its investigations and preparations for public hearings. It also covers external services, for example, bereavement and listening support for people engaging with the Inquiry.
- core participant fees
These are fees paid to core participants' legal representatives.

The Committee appreciates that the Inquiry is at an early stage but would welcome any information on relevant costs under the above categories, as there is none currently available on the Inquiry website.

The Committee expects to start taking evidence in late May and so a response by 23 May 2025 would be appreciated.

Please contact the Committee Clerks should you require any further information.

Yours sincerely,

Kenneth Gibson MSP
Convener
